
Animal Nutritionist Resume

Job Objective

To obtain an Animal Nutritionist position in a reputed organization.

Highlights of Qualifications:

- Hands-on experience in research and management of animal nutrition, health and feed distribution
 - Strong knowledge of different types of cattle feed and quantity of nourishment required for different animals
 - Extensive knowledge of various livestock feeding technologies, roughage utility, and animal feed nutrients and additives
 - Familiarity with animal care practices, sanitation methods and animal infertility management
 - Ability to interact with team members, peers, farm workers and government agency officials, in a positive manner
 - Ability to conduct nutrition-based research related to various animal diseases, efficiently
-

Professional Experience:

Animal Nutritionist
Land O 'Lakes, Inc., Huntsville, AL
August 2012 – Present

Responsibilities:

- Examined and interpreted nutritional and dietary requirements of animals.
 - Studied chemical composition and nutritive value of different animal feeds, fodder and dietary supplements.
 - Conducted research related to animal selection, breeding and management practices to improve animal quality.
 - Provided technical guidance related to animal feeding techniques, hygiene and food products.
 - Created informative marketing material, technical bulletins and client-specific presentations on animal nutrition, general care and standard diets.
 - Selected vendors for procurement of animal feeds, mineral mixture and nutritional supplements and reviewed their work-performance.
-

Animal Nutritionist
Kalmbach Feeds Inc, Huntsville, AL
May 2009 – July 2012

Responsibilities:

- Studied and evaluated nutritional and economic value of available animal feeds and feed combinations.
 - Researched and assessed efficiency of existing feeding systems and diets of animals.
 - Formulated, marketed and sold new and improved animal feed and nutritive supplements.
 - Prepared new feeding programs and optimized existing animal feed manufacturing techniques.
 - Counseled farmers, animal owners, veterinarians, government bodies and other agricultural advisers, regarding animal nutrition.
 - Complied with established quality assurance and animal health standards, as applicable.
-

Education:

Bachelor's Degree in Animal Nutrition
Longwood University, Farmville, VA

Build your Resume Now