

---

APPLICATIONS ARCHITECT RESUME

---

Summary:

---

An experienced engineer with proven experience in implementing solutions using cloud-based platforms including its integration between legacy applications; high-level experience in developing and deploying ERP solutions based on Oracle applications; experience in messaging middleware and Service-Oriented Architectures ; high level of comfort working with different teams, can adapt well with the changing environments and within all levels of the organization; web-based application, web technology and business processes expertise.

---

Professional Experience:

---

Senior Applications Architect September 2005 – Present
Microcircuits Corporation, Irwindale, CA

---

Responsibilities:

---

Deployed IT solutions according to approved standards and strategies in the financial segment.
Provided consultative advice to junior architects in the field of financial data modeling products.
Assisted the sales team in conducting presales presentations to business users and channel partners regarding business streamlining procedures, hardware and software platforms which could reduce their OPEX and CAPEX.
Provided analytical, technical and business expertise to improve their current operations, increase end-user response time and employee productivity which accessing these applications.
Implemented and installed architectural plans and infrastructure maps as well as designed solutions to provide appropriate levels of performance, scalability, and reliability.
Supported and trained understudies in the understanding, propagation and implementation of financial business applications.
Submitted reports on understudy performance and provided trainings to enhance their knowledge in IT applications.
Application Architect June 2002 – August 2005
Electronic Components International, Granite Bay, CA

---

Responsibilities:

---

- Deployed IT solutions according to approved standards and strategies in the financial segment.
- Provided consultative advice to junior architects in the field of financial data modeling products.
- Assisted the sales team in conducting presales presentations to business users and channel partners regarding business streamlining procedures, hardware and software platforms which could reduce their OPEX and CAPEX.
- Provided analytical, technical and business expertise to improve their current operations, increase end-user response time and employee productivity which accessing these applications.
- Implemented and installed architectural plans and infrastructure maps as well as designed solutions to provide appropriate levels of performance, scalability, and reliability.
- Supported and trained understudies in the understanding, propagation and implementation of financial business applications.
- Submitted reports on understudy performance and provided trainings to enhance their knowledge in IT applications.

Application Architect June 2002 – August 2005
Electronic Components International, Granite Bay, CA

---

Responsibilities:

---

- Deployed IT solutions according to approved standards and strategies in the financial segment.
- Provided consultative advice to junior architects in the field of financial data modeling products.
- Assisted the sales team in conducting presales presentations to business users and channel partners regarding business streamlining procedures, hardware and software platforms which could reduce their OPEX and CAPEX.
- Provided analytical, technical and business expertise to improve their current operations, increase end-user response time and employee productivity which accessing these applications.
- Implemented and installed architectural plans and infrastructure maps as well as designed solutions to provide appropriate levels of performance, scalability, and reliability.
- Supported and trained understudies in the understanding, propagation and implementation of financial business applications.
- Submitted reports on understudy performance and provided trainings to enhance their knowledge in IT applications.

Application Architect June 2002 – August 2005
Electronic Components International, Granite Bay, CA

---

Education:

---

1999-2001 Masters in IT, Major in Architectural Engineering
1995-1999 Bachelor of Science in Computer Science

---

Skills/Certifications:

---

- Business and operations management
  - Global applications development for availability and performance
  - Software systems integration and business planning
  - Applications programming
  - Strong written and verbal communication skills
  - Proficiency in Web Application Software (Linux, Websphere, Apache Tomcat)
-

Associations/Organizations:

---

National Council of Architectural Registration Boards, Member
American Institute of Architects (AIA), Member

Build your Resume Now