
Associate Scientist Resume

Job Objective

To obtain an Associate Scientist position in a highly reputed organization.

Highlights of Qualifications:

- Substantial experience of providing assistance with scientific research, result interpretation and reporting activities
 - In-depth knowledge of basic scientific principles, cell culture operations, chromatography and spectroscopy
 - Operational knowledge of Microsoft Office, Minitab, analyzer and common laboratory equipments
 - Familiarity with GLP and GMP environment, standards and regulations
 - Ability to interpret and adhere to government-approved regulations and documentation requirements
 - Ability to present and explain technical concepts to a nontechnical person, efficiently
-

Professional Experience:

Associate Scientist
Celgene Corporation, New York, NY
August 2012 – Present

Responsibilities:

- Prepared and implemented SOPs, test procedures and protocols.
 - Obtained, processed, analyzed, and interpreted samples, as needed.
 - Developed and maintained test records, summary reports and other technical documents.
 - Ordered, maintained, and monitored laboratory instruments and supplies.
 - Interpreted and followed FDA regulations, ICH guidelines, CGMPs and CGLPs.
 - Built and maintained strong business relationship with CRO and vendors.
-

Associate Scientist
Medivation, Inc., New York, NY
May 2009 – July 2012

Responsibilities:

- Planned, lead, and assisted in scientific studies and research activities.
 - Developed, reviewed, and implemented scientific protocols and test methods.
 - Prepared and maintained accurate technical documents and reports.
 - Identified, investigated, and resolved technical issues, in a timely manner.
 - Supported and assisted with technology transfer and equipment improvement activities.
 - Attended and coordinated meetings with teams and stakeholders, as required.
-

Education:

Master's Degree in Information Technology
St. John's College, Santa Fe, NM

Build your Resume Now