
BI Developer Resume

Job Objective

To obtain a BI Developer position and to contribute to the success of the company.

Work Experience:

BI Developer, July 2006 – Present
Pentel, Inc., Baltimore, MD

- Designed and developed data warehouses and all reporting needs.
- Designed and developed the data marts and cubes used in business intelligence analysis.
- Worked with the end user community to determine the reporting needs and ascertain that data warehousing met their needs.
- Created models for new data warehouses and changes to existing ones.
- Designed, developed and modified data extraction and transformation routines for data warehouses.

BI Developer, May 2002 – June 2006
Rotomac Corporation, Baltimore, MD

- Responded to and resolve database access and performance issues.
 - Prepared database architectures, coding standards and quality assurance policies and procedures.
 - Created required reports in response to business user needs.
 - Established appropriate end-user database access control levels.
 - Prepared routines for end users to facilitate best practices database use.
-

Summary of Qualifications:

- Extensive experience in providing BI reporting and development (Cognos and Business Objects)
 - In-depth knowledge of Business Intelligence Development processes and tools (OBIEE, Oracle OLAP and ESSBase)
 - Impeccable knowledge of emerging industry practices when solving business intelligence challenges
 - Ability to express complex business concepts in technical terms
 - Proficient with OBIEE (Siebel), Oracle BI Apps, Object-Oriented design methodology and Oracle DAC
 - Strong problem resolution skills, testing and debugging skills
 - Excellent verbal and written communication skills
 - Ability to successfully manage multiple task assignments
-

Education:

Bachelor's Degree in Computer Science, Berea College, Kentucky, KY

Build your Resume Now