
Death Investigator Resume

Job Objective

To secure a Death Investigator position with growing firm in which to use my training and educational expertise to help business grow and meet goals.

Highlights of Qualifications:

- Remarkable fraud investigative experience in life and annuity product lines
 - Profound knowledge of life and annuity business
 - Ability to take appropriate photographs of scene, body and evidence for compilation
 - Ability to stay calm, even tempered, decisive, accurate and emotionally unattached
 - Ability to compile data and prepare experience reports to management
 - Uncommon ability to lift and carry one hundred (100) pounds
 - Exceptional ability to recognize patterns of suspicious fraudulent activity
-

Professional Experience:

Death Investigator, August 2005 – Present
Forensic Medical, Madison, WI

- Conducted interviews for information surrounding the terminal event.
- Prepared a plan for obtaining additional information and appropriate actions to be taken.
- Contacted the police when required by the circumstances of the death.
- Researched next of kin and arranged for the family and friends to view and identify the decedent.
- Developed physical description of the decedent by viewing the body.
- Assembled material evidence such as drugs, medicines, poisons, X-rays of the ballistic location in the decedent, fingerprints and weapons.

Death Investigator, May 2000 – July 2005
Sharp Decisions, Madison, WI

- Collected, documented, secured, tracked and disposed decedent's personal property.
 - Photographed death scenes and bodies and assisted in establishing identity of decedent and ensured timely notification of next-of-kin.
 - Provided information and assistance to family members of decedents.
 - Provided information and training to staff, interns and other interested parties.
 - Assisted with the disposition of indigent and unclaimed bodies.
-

Education:

Bachelor's Degree in Forensic Science, Oklahoma City University, Oklahoma City, OK

Build your Resume Now