

---

Financial Engineer Resume

---

Job Objective

To be given an opportunity to exhibit my Financial Engineer skills and use my knowledge to contribute to the growth of the company.

---

Highlights of Qualifications:

- Hands-on experience working as a Financial Engineer and developing financial models
  - Profound knowledge of high frequency and automated trading systems
  - Ability to Develop test plans and testware for Financial products
  - Ability to determine test methodology and test data setup
  - Expert in MS SQL, MySQL, RDBMS, SQL, C++ and Perl
  - Immense ability to use math in the engineering process
  - Ability to analyze and prepare the financial models
  - Proficient in using Linux and Unix
-

Professional Experience:

Financial Engineer, August 2005 – Present
Factset research system S inc., Bandera, TX

- Managed and developed trading strategies and enhancements to the system.
- Prepared and implemented the financial data collection and acquisition method.
- Maintained and analyzed financial statistical data and suggested enhancements to the trading models.
- Documented the functional aspect of the test for the software developers.
- Coordinated with the software developers and performed test runs for the same.
- Organized the working of the trade and recommended improvements to it.

Financial Engineer, May 2000 – July 2005
Next Step Systems, Bandera, TX

- Provided support to the training desk for their daily activities.
  - Performed research and implemented volatility and forecasted upcoming techniques.
  - Handled the risk calculation and the associated tools, enhanced and customized them as per the customer requirement.
  - Ensured that the managed positions were effectively handled and developed the risk hedging tools.
-

Education:

Bachelor's Degree in Statistics, Newbury College, Brookline, MA

---

Build your Resume Now