
Fire Department Training Officer Resume

Job Objective

Seeking an opportunity by filling a Fire Department Training Officer position to help the right organization boost productivity and benefits.

Highlights of Qualifications:

- Excellent knowledge of specialized rescue training and operations
- Familiar with industrial fire fighting
- Proficient in working with emergency response equipment and apparatus
- High level of technical, operational knowledge and skills
- Ability to work effectively and successfully to obtain maximum result

Professional Experience:

Fire Department Training Officer
Akimeka Technologies, San Leandro, CA
August 2005 – Present

- Assessed baseline and fundamental skills of fire division personnel.
- Continuously evaluated drill procedures for fire fighting personnel.
- Planned, scheduled and conducted training drills appropriate for fire fighters.
- Created and maintained a training matrix system showing all mandatory, specialized, optional and miscellaneous training.
- Developed and maintained a system to identify the various ranges of training available.
- Maintained a system to identify and publish at least one training bulletin every month.

Fire Department Training Officer
Keaki Technologies, San Leandro, CA
May 2000 – July 2005

- Provided training to fire fighters to efficiently manage rescue and fire fighting operations.
- Trained fire fighters in ventilation, hydraulics, pumper operation and aerial ladder operation.
- Trained fire fighters on how to use fire streams and maintenance of equipment and apparatus.
- Provided live fire training, foam application and tank fires.
- Provided training to Emergency Response Team (ERT) on fire fighting tactics and skills.
- Developed and performed table top, simulation and exercise drill support the ERT fire-fighters, Emergency Operation Centre and Shift Supervisor.

Education:

Associate Degree in Fire Science
Wor-Wic Community College, Salisbury, MD

Build your Resume Now