
Microbiology Professor Resume

Job Objective

To obtain Microbiology Professor position in a reputed college.

Highlights of Qualifications:

- Strong experience of teaching Microbiology courses
 - Exceptional knowledge of instructional technologies
 - Sound knowledge of molecular and cell biology
 - Familiarity with student engagement techniques
 - Good understanding of Microbiology concepts and technical procedures
 - Skilled in developing course content
 - Ability to teach Botany, Anatomy and Physiology
 - Ability to secure external funds for research programs
 - Ability to teach students from diverse backgrounds
-

Professional Experience:

Microbiology Professor
Oakland University, Charleston, WV
August 2007 – Present

- Delivered lectures on Microbiology as per approved schedules and curriculum
- Developed course syllabus and materials as per college standard format.
- Evaluated student's assignments and classwork.
- Maintained reports of student's progress and attendance.
- Conducted online classes as per e-learning policy manual.
- Participated in campus events and educational committee.
- Worked with management in resolving academic issues.
- Maintained department equipment and materials in good conditions.

Microbiology Professor
Edison State College, Charleston, WV
May 2004 – July 2007

- Responded to daily needs of Microbiology department.
 - Assigned work to other faculty in the department.
 - Provided support for research programs.
 - Assisted junior staffs in post-graduate studies.
 - Assisted students in laboratory works.
 - Responded promptly during emergency situations.
 - Conducted researches on Immunology and Microbiology.
-

Education:

PhD in Microbiology
Georgian Court University, Lakewood, NJ
Master's Degree in Microbiology
Burlington County College, Pemberton, NJ

Build your Resume Now