
Online Course Developer Resume

Job Objective

To secure a challenging and rewarding position as Online Course Developer with an established organization that can utilize my skills and experience.

Highlights of Qualifications:

- Huge experience in course development in a distance learning and Web-based training environment
 - Multi-faceted production experience in a digital media environment, including experience designing and developing courses using HTML, Flash, video, and graphics
 - Solid understanding of Web technologies, a background in instructional design, education, and learning theory
 - Good knowledge of learning management systems, music theory and music production technologies
 - Strong written and oral communication skills
 - Amazing ability to maintain high levels of creativity and quality
 - Outstanding ability to meet deadlines, prioritize, and work on multiple projects simultaneously with great efficiency and attention to detail
-

Professional Experience:

Online Course Developer
Bluemoon, Inc., Swannanoa, NC
July 2006 – Present

- Developed courses and related materials for delivery online.
- Provided instructional design feedback to course authors.
- Created content, including text, graphics, and multimedia for learning management systems.
- Monitored courses and collected user's feedback and refined material and approaches to course creation.
- Prepared training materials and programs for new course authors and instructors.

Online Course Developer
Nova Corporation, Swannanoa, NC
May 2002 – June 2006

- Identified and implemented innovative technologies that promoted efficiency in course development and provided platforms for collaborative and engaging student learning experiences.
 - Gathered compelling learning examples and other relevant information for course promotion opportunities.
 - Prepared centralized assessments.
 - Edited existing course content and assessments.
 - Ensured that graphics and animations are optimized for delivery over the web.
 - Followed course design, format, quality, and version control guideline.
-

Education:

Bachelor's Degree in Instructional Design
Concordia College—Ann Arbor, Michigan, MI

Build your Resume Now