
Perioperative Nurse Resume

Job Objective

Position within the medical practice in order to increase the positive track record of the hospital as a Perioperative Nurse.

Summary of Qualifications:

- Wide working experience in perioperative unit
 - Thorough knowledge of managing things and persons around
 - Exceptional knowledge of measurements
 - Ability to calm down aggressive patients
 - Ability to complete paperwork efficiently
 - Strong understanding of demanding profession
-

Work Experience:

Perioperative Nurse, August 2005 – Present
Mammoth Hospital, Syracuse, NY

- Administered care for patients immediately before an operation and right after surgery, in the post-anesthesia care unit.
- Evaluated the patient health condition to administer drugs to help him relax.
- Assisted the surgeon and focused on the patient's status.
- Monitored the heart and lung function, and administered pain medications, and observed for any surgical complications.
- Maintained quality of nursing services delivered by self or others.
- Ensured to implemented treatment plan for patients with accuracy.

Perioperative Nurse, May 2000 – July 2005
Baylor Health Care System, Syracuse, NY

- Provided high-touch care in a high-tech postoperative unit environment.
 - Managed to quickly identify potential problems and acted decisively.
 - Served as an important part of the surgical team, along with surgeons, anesthesiologists, and surgical technicians.
 - Implemented the knowledge of nursing skills to assess and plan postoperative patient care.
 - Administered prescribed postoperative medications as directed.
 - Ensured to observes, records, and report patient's condition and reaction to postoperative situation.
-

Education:

Bachelor of Science in Health Care Management, Morris Brown College, Atlanta, GA

Build your Resume Now