

---

PHYSIOLOGIST RESUME

---

Summary:

---

A dynamic and enthusiastic Physiologist with years of experience in conducting exercises, assisting patients, and providing lessons about health, wellness, and fitness; taught patients/participants proper positions during exercise and proper use of clinical equipment as well; maintains harmonious ambiance for patients/ participants; can write progress notes on patients and has the ability to provide health education to patients

---

Professional Experience:

---

Physiologist January 2006 – Present
Physician Services, Chicago, IL

---

Responsibilities:

---

Developed and implemented exercise programs for patients.
Administered medical tests under physician's supervision.
Explained programs and test procedures to participant/patients.
Obtained vital statistics, medical history, and records of participants/patients through interviews.
Recorded heart activities, using electrocardiograph (EKG) machine.
Measured oxygen consumption, lung functioning with the use of spirometer.
Assistant Physiologist May 2004 – December 2006
Northwestern Medical Faculty Foundation, Chicago, IL

---

Responsibilities:

---

- Developed and implemented exercise programs for patients.
- Administered medical tests under physician's supervision.
- Explained programs and test procedures to participant/patients.
- Obtained vital statistics, medical history, and records of participants/patients through interviews.
- Recorded heart activities, using electrocardiograph (EKG) machine.
- Measured oxygen consumption, lung functioning with the use of spirometer.

Assistant Physiologist May 2004 – December 2006
Northwestern Medical Faculty Foundation, Chicago, IL

---

Responsibilities:

---

- Developed and implemented exercise programs for patients.
- Administered medical tests under physician's supervision.
- Explained programs and test procedures to participant/patients.
- Obtained vital statistics, medical history, and records of participants/patients through interviews.
- Recorded heart activities, using electrocardiograph (EKG) machine.
- Measured oxygen consumption, lung functioning with the use of spirometer.

Assistant Physiologist May 2004 – December 2006
Northwestern Medical Faculty Foundation, Chicago, IL

---

Education:

---

Masters Degree in Physiology, Rice University, 1999
Bachelor of Science in Physiology, Rice University, 1994

---

Skills:

---

- Ability to maintain harmonious ambiance for patients/ participants
  - Ability to supervise physician regarding unusual and unexpected events and problems
  - Ability to write progress notes on patients
  - Ability to provide health education to patient
  - Ability to perform clinical research related to health, wellness and fitness
  - Responsible for other duties as assigned
-

Awards and Affiliations:

---

American College of Sports Medicine, Member
NIH Partners in Health Campaign, Member

Build your Resume Now