
Product Developer Resume

Job Objective

To secure a challenging and rewarding position as Product Developer with an established organization that can utilize my skills and experience.

Highlights of Qualifications:

- Good expertise in software architecture and design
 - Exceptional knowledge in designing and developing complex framework and platform solutions using web technologies and Service Oriented software with practical use of design patterns
 - Sound knowledge of Servlets, DHTML, CSS, AJAX, IE Box model, ActionScript, experienced using JavaScript prototype chain
 - Deep knowledge of developing J2EE compliant applications for Tomcat, Websphere and WebLogic
 - Strong knowledge of OO design patterns and web protocols, frameworks, and technologies
 - Excellent ability to design and develop Object Oriented Extensive knowledge of web servers and app servers, internals of browsers and standards compliance of different browsers (IE/FireFox/Safari), Flex/Flash technologies
-

Professional Experience:

Product Developer
Rikon, Inc., Fort Thompson, SD
July 2006 – Present

- Participated and contributed in all aspects of Product Development Lifecycle from Requirements analysis to product release.
- Lead product engineering team and reviewed architecture and design.
- Designed, coded, tested, implemented, and validated business, and technical information technology related programs in middle-tier and front end solutions.
- Assessed feasibility and priority of features and upgrades.
- Lead and participated on empowered virtual teams to deliver iteration deliverables, manages projects within scope of responsibility and drive the technical direction of the product.
- Collaborated with server-side development team to optimize web scalability and performance.

Product Developer
Verizon Corporation, Fort Thompson, SD
May 2002 – June 2006

- Performed market research and analysis.
 - Analyzed business needs and trends.
 - Generated and conceived new product ideas.
 - Solicited, documented product ideas.
 - Documented product requirements.
 - Created required product performs.
 - Tracked and recorded product development expenses.
 - Developed new Author and Subject Matter Expert relationships.
 - Developed new business partner relationships.
 - Negotiated and executed necessary contracts.
 - Conducted concept and beta tests.
 - Assisted in the creation and enforcement of product standards.
 - Created, updated and distributed timely and appropriate reports.
-

Education:

Bachelor's Degree in Computer Science
Haverford College in Pennsylvania, Pennsylvania, PA

Build your Resume Now