QUALITY TECHNICIAN RESUME

Objective:

To be able to work as a QA Technician where my skills and expertise in quality control/assurance, lean management and organizational improvement will be challenged for the good of the company.

Education:

MA Business Administration, 2003
Cornell University

BS Business Administration, 1999
Cornell University

Skills:

- Skilled in testing equipments and measuring devices
- Skilled in implementing improvement and cost saving (lean) projects
- Knowledgeable in statistical analysis as applied to operational processes
- Knowledgeable in Six Sigma methodologies
- Proficient in reading and interpreting blueprints
- Excellent communication skills

Professional Experience:

- Sr. Quality Technician, 2008-present
- HAL Holding, NV, Hamilton, WA

Responsibilities:

- Communicated information and other complex data to production and warehouse leadsmen.
- Utilized various metrological instruments in conducting information to production.
- Evaluated data and other systems to ensure adherence to business operations and SAP standards.

- Jr. Quality Technician, 2005-2008
- Haldex AB, Hamilton WA

Responsibilities:

- Conducted various tests to ensure that parts are in compliance with established blueprints.
- Assisted in the diagnosing root causes of problems before submitting final reports.
- Gathered data and inspected the same before forwarding to Final Shipments Unit.
- Implemented plant-wide quality assurance methodologies and procedures.

- QA Technician, 2003-2005
- BGL Cement Industries, Hamilton, WA

Responsibilities:

- Communicated information and other complex data to production and warehouse leadsmen.
- Utilized various metrological instruments in conducting information to production.
- Evaluated data and other systems to ensure adherence to business operations and SAP standards.

- Jr. Quality Technician, 2005-2008
- Haldex AB, Hamilton WA

Certifications and Affiliations:

Certificate in Management Essentials
Certificate in Six Sigma Green Belt & Six Sigma Lean

Build your Resume Now