
Site Reliability Engineer Resume

Job Objective

Seeking a Site Reliability Engineer position that enables me to utilize my skills within the field to make a positive contribution to the company.

Summary of Qualifications:

- Remarkable experience in site maintenance and reliability
 - Operational knowledge of java application troubleshooting as well as client-server software, server architectures and performance bottlenecks
 - Deep knowledge of the scripting in Java Runtime Environment
 - Familiarity with Reliability techniques, Root Cause Analysis and Reliability Centered Maintenance
 - Proficient with Six Sigma tools, SAP, C, C++, Java Shell, PHP, Perl and Python
 - Skilled in using reliability prediction and calculation techniques
 - Ability to resolve technical issues and manage on-call duty
 - Superior communication skills
 - Excellent organizational and multi-tasking skills
-

Work Experience:

Site Reliability Engineer, August 2005 – Present
Venture Loop, Newark, NJ

- Delegated to maintain service level agreements.
- Acted as technical escalation point for all production issues.
- Managed capacity plans and trigger procedures and enforced escalation management.
- Acted as intermediary to Operations teams and Engineering.
- Participated in technical design reviews and assured operational readiness of data centers.

Site Reliability Engineer, May 2000 – July 2005
OmniTI, Newark, NJ

- Enforced technology solutions for varied business and technical problems.
 - Formulated packages and open source applications.
 - Troubleshot application failures and production emergencies and handled systems and network change control.
 - Enforced backup and system failure recovery policies.
 - Assisted developers and other engineers and managed critical events.
-

Education:

Bachelor's Degree in Computer Sciences, Hondros College, Westerville, OH

Build your Resume Now