
VETERINARIAN RESUME

Summary:

Proficient in English and Filipino Languages; Knowledgeable in the new advancements in medical technology; Very professional and customer-oriented; Team player and highly motivated; Organized and keen on accuracy and precision; Very detailed and thorough; reliable and efficient; highly appreciates others and very strict on time management; Very skilled in orthopedic surgery on animals and has an established and notable client contacts and installed base.

Professional Experience:

- Team Leader, Veterinary Research 2006 – Present
 - Nova Pharmaceutical Company, New Jersey
-

Responsibilities:

Participated as member of the Research and Development team with aim to develop and thoroughly test drugs and vaccines for animals.

Conducted trainings and orientations to junior veterinarians regarding the policies, methodologies and processes of the company.

Studied human and animal relationship, their co-existence and possible the ways diseases are transferred from animals to humans; provided cure to these diseases.

Continuously conducted routine-health checks and status examinations on in-house laboratory animals.

Accurately logged and kept records of results of tests conducted per species and made sure the medications applied to animals have antidotes to reverse its negative effects, in compliance with the government rules and regulations on animal tests.

Private Practice (Doctor of Veterinary Medicine) 2002 – 2006

Cambridge Pet Clinic and Grooming Center, Chicago, IL

Responsibilities:

- Participated as member of the Research and Development team with aim to develop and thoroughly test drugs and vaccines for animals.
 - Conducted trainings and orientations to junior veterinarians regarding the policies, methodologies and processes of the company.
 - Studied human and animal relationship, their co-existence and possible the ways diseases are transferred from animals to humans; provided cure to these diseases.
 - Continuously conducted routine-health checks and status examinations on in-house laboratory animals.
 - Accurately logged and kept records of results of tests conducted per species and made sure the medications applied to animals have antidotes to reverse its negative effects, in compliance with the government rules and regulations on animal tests.
-
- Private Practice (Doctor of Veterinary Medicine) 2002 – 2006
 - Cambridge Pet Clinic and Grooming Center, Chicago, IL
-

Responsibilities:

- Participated as member of the Research and Development team with aim to develop and thoroughly test drugs and vaccines for animals.
 - Conducted trainings and orientations to junior veterinarians regarding the policies, methodologies and processes of the company.
 - Studied human and animal relationship, their co-existence and possible the ways diseases are transferred from animals to humans; provided cure to these diseases.
 - Continuously conducted routine-health checks and status examinations on in-house laboratory animals.
 - Accurately logged and kept records of results of tests conducted per species and made sure the medications applied to animals have antidotes to reverse its negative effects, in compliance with the government rules and regulations on animal tests.
-
- Private Practice (Doctor of Veterinary Medicine) 2002 – 2006
 - Cambridge Pet Clinic and Grooming Center, Chicago, IL
-

Education:

Doctor of Veterinary Medicine (D.V.M.), 2001

Arizona State University, AZ

Bachelor of Science in Animal Science, 1997

Indiana University, IN

Skills:

- Knowledgeable in using computers, fax machines, printers and other office equipment
 - Decision-making
 - Time management
 - Planning and Organization
-

Affiliations:

Member, American Veterinary Medical Association (AVMA), 2002 to present
Member, PETA, 2001 to present

Build your Resume Now