
WASTE MANAGEMENT CONSULTANT RESUME

Summary:

A waste management consultant who has an extensive experience in the field and has an in-depth knowledge in chemical compositions and its disposal; has a good background about the economic and environmental considerations of different waste disposal systems and make the necessary recommendations to clients; has a solid foundation in the budget and financial requirements that will be utilized by specific waste management enterprise; has recommended improvements and upgrades to recycling enterprises that meets local safety standards and environmental laws; conducted trainings and orientations to various agencies in the cyclic nature of the water system and its relationship to environmental waste management; is familiar with the principles of polluter pays legislation and other related laws governing waste management disposal.

Professional Experience:

Renewal Energy Consultant January 2007 – Present
Carbeion LLC, Albany, NY

Responsibilities:

- Worked with our current technical staff to support our existing backlog as well as develop new business for financial profitability.
- Identified and spearheaded the creation and implementation of alternative energy solutions and in managing the resources.
- Participated resource assessment, due diligence, site planning and permitting, feasibility studies, innovative technology evaluation and project proposal evaluation.
- Prospected for new clients and developed specific work programs for these clients including taking a lead role in project management, implementation and post sales support.
- Supported the development of client carbon management strategies for waste management and resource maximization.
- Utilized a deep understanding of conventional approaches and innovative cost saving solutions for the client's requirements.

Principal Consultant, Waste Procurement May 2004 – December 2006
Waste Management Corporation, Albany, NY

Responsibilities:

- Provided practical and engineering waste management knowledge to support existing technical contracts on residual waste treatment program.
- Conducted technology appraisals, the development of technical and commercial procurement documentation and undertook technical solution testing and validation.
- Supported and developed market assessments in commercial and industrial waste contracts, new project opportunities in the renewable energy projects.
- Supported & led existing projects under framework contracts for new waste streams facilities and market assessments for biological water treatment.
- Conducted business development studies with public and private sector clients as well as with the company to prepare for budgetary allocation.

Eco-Consultant February 1999 – May 2004
Chem-Aqua, Albany, NY

Responsibilities:

- Worked with our current technical staff to support our existing backlog as well as develop new business for financial profitability.
- Identified and spearheaded the creation and implementation of alternative energy solutions and in managing the resources.
- Participated resource assessment, due diligence, site planning and permitting, feasibility studies, innovative technology evaluation and project proposal evaluation.
- Prospected for new clients and developed specific work programs for these clients including taking a lead role in project management, implementation and post sales support.
- Supported the development of client carbon management strategies for waste management and resource maximization.
- Utilized a deep understanding of conventional approaches and innovative cost saving solutions for the client's requirements.

Principal Consultant, Waste Procurement May 2004 – December 2006
Waste Management Corporation, Albany, NY

Education:

Masters Degree in Atmospheric Science, University of Iowa, IA, 1999
Bachelors Degree in Meteorology, Rockefeller University, NY, 1997

Skills:

- Knowledge in various chemicals and their proper disposal process
- Excellent negotiation and organizational skills
- Adept in local and federal laws on waste management processes
- Strong interpersonal and leadership skills
- Environmentally updated on facts and developments

Awards and Affiliations:

National Registry of Environmental Professionals, Member
American Suppliers of Energy, Water & Waste Management Services, Member

Build your Resume Now